Report of the Tree Warden.

In reviewing the conditions of the public shade trees of this town for the past year, it gives me pleasure to report progress.

With the limited means at my disposal, my attention has been principally directed to the improvement of trees already in existence. To this end I have adopted a system which, if persevered in for a few years, will place our trees in a condition which will, I think, prove satisfactory to the most fastidious tree lover.

I would utter a word of caution regarding the planting of trees on highways, especially under established lines of wire. Do not make the mistake of planting standard shade trees, which will in a few years become a source of annoyance, both to the corporation owning the line and to the abutter. I would suggest for such locations the selection of half dwarf varieties, of which there are many, which can be maintained to the mutual satisfaction of all parties.

The co-operation of all public spirited citizens is respectfully solicited for the protection and advancement of our shade tree interests.

GEORGE B. B. WRIGHT,
Tree Warden.

ARTHUR G. SCOBORIA,
Agent Board of Health.

Chelmsford, Mass., March 3, 1904.

Report of Cemetery Commissioners.

The work of general improvement in our various cemeteries has continued during the past year in line with the plans originally adopted by your Commission.

By making some definite improvement each year at each of the grounds, and holding fast to that already accomplished, will certainly result in much better conditions as the years go by.

Special mention should be made of the work done at the West Cemetery during the year. To the earnest effort of Supt. Whidden great credit is due for bringing this pretty little spot up to its present attractive condition.

The piece of land so much needed at Riverside to give an entrance at the easterly end of this cemetery, and which the town voted last year should be obtained by legal process, has been satisfactorily acquired and may be improved the coming season.

Another section of Forefathers has been spaded during the past fall and will be levelled, enriched and seeded this coming spring.

At Pine Ridge we have continued the work of cleaning up the grounds and have planted several new beds of shrubbery in accordance with the plans by which this new cemetery was laid out.

There is much that should be done in all of our cemeteries, and the Board earnestly solicits your suggestions and co-operation in bringing about the best results possible.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEX. J. PARK,
HUBERT BEARCE,
HARRY L. PARKHURST.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

FREDERICK L. KENDALL.

Report of the School Committee.

The work accomplished by our schools during the past year has been of a very satisfactory character and merits the appreciation generally conceded to successful effort.

The membership of our schools has materially increased necessitating at North Chelmsford a re-arrangement of the grades and additional expense.

The needs of the children in the easterly section of the town are well provided for by the completion of the new school house, which also practically eliminates the problem of conveyance of pupils from the East to the Center.

The schools of the West Village are crowded, and therefore unsatisfactory at the present time. Industrial affairs are in an unsettled state which makes the school question a difficult one to answer. Something however must be done in the near future for the betterment of school accommodations in that locality.

Your committee finds that one of the most annoying problems at present, is the conveyance of pupils to school. The privilege is one that is very prone to abuse, and in some parts of the town, parents are seldom satisfied with what is done.

We have been careful to reduce this expense to a minimum but it cost the Town this year over $1,115.00, even with the expenditures at the East reduced to something merely nominal. Of course in a town like Chelmsford we cannot hope to be entirely free from this expense, but whenever and wherever possible children should be educated near home.

It has been necessary in order to retain the services of our best teachers, to materially increase the salaries of the older and more experienced members of the teaching force.

During the past year we have also had to meet the expense of a janitor and an additional teacher at the East Village, of increased cost of fuel, and of labor in making necessary improvements.

Our receipts also have been less this year than we expected, because of changes which barred us from receiving any portion of the income of the state school fund. Last year we had three hundred seventy-six dollars and thirty-four cents from this source.

For these reasons our appropriations for the present fiscal year are overrun, and for the coming year increased appropriations will be necessary if we are to retain our present position in things educational.

We believe that our people want good teachers who are thoroughly trained for their profession; and also buildings suitable for the work, well warmed, healthfully ventilated, clean and in good repair.

All these things mean increased cost, but we feel certain that now as ever, our citizens will deal liberally with the public schools.

The Superintendent's report which follows should be carefully read and studied by those who are interested.

TEACHERS.

There have been an unusual number of changes in the teaching force since my last report, there being now in that number eight persons who have taught in town less than a year. While it is to be regretted that so many changes have taken come, yet I am pleased to say that the new teachers have taken hold of their duties in such a commendable manner, that the school work has gone on with but little interruption. This may be due in part to the fact that before entering upon her duties each teacher had an opportunity to become somewhat acquainted with the work of the room for which she was engaged by means of the report of the work done in the room during the previous year, which, in most cases, was supplemented with a personal interview with the superintendent.

SCHOOL HOUSE ACCOMMODATIONS.

In my report of last year, I called attention to the large enrollment in the West Chelmsford schools. For nearly two years now, there have been nearly a hundred children of school age who live in that village—a sufficient number for three good schools.

At present, twelve children above the seventh grade are being transported to schools in other parts of the town, nearly thirty are enrolled in the grammar room and fifty-six in the primary room.

The number enrolled in the latter room is so large this year, that it was decided, after careful discussion, to have the children of the two lower grades attend only the morning session, and the children of the third and fourth grades attend only the afternoon session except on Thursdays, when all pupils should be present for a part of the forenoon to receive instruction from the supervisor of music. The plan thus adopted has worked better than we anticipated; and, I think, has been much more satisfactory than the plan of having all children come both morning and afternoon.

The enrollment at the North School continues to increase, that school having this year the largest number of pupils of any school in town. The number in the different rooms is not excessive, if we except the primary room, which has had an enrollment of fifty for most of the time since September. By another year, however, it is not at all unlikely that it may be necessary to make use of the only room remaining unoccupied.

The East School opened in September with an enrollment of twenty-one in the grammar room, and of forty-one in the primary room. The probabilities are that the number of the grammar school scholars will be larger next year.

ADMISSION OF CHILDREN.

It has been the custom to allow children to enter the first grade at the beginning of the fall term, and also at the beginning of the spring term, by far the larger number entering in September. I would strongly recommend a change in this custom, so that children shall be admitted only at the beginning of the school year. Some of the reasons for advocating this change are: Children who enter in the spring get just enough of a start to make it necessary to have them in classes by themselves for a portion of the year at least; plans for the work of the year are formulated in September; and all regular promotions are made at the close of the school year in June.

I would urge that this change be made now, because many of the primary rooms are so full that it will make it very difficult to properly care for the children if more are admitted in the spring.

BOOKS AND RECORDS.

New textbooks in geography for the fifth, seventh and eighth grades, and new textbooks in history for the seventh grade were placed in the schools at the beginning of the school year in September. Some new readers have also been added to the supply on hand. More could be used to advantage, the need being greatest in the third and fourth grades.

During the summer, I had plan books printed for the use of the teachers, which are so designed that there is a blank space for the work outlined in each subject for each day of the school year. These are now in use and serve both as a record for the work planned and also as a record of the work accomplished.

The estimate of the character of the work done by the grade pupils is kept on blanks especially designed for that purpose, there being a blank for each child, on which his rank is placed at the end of each week. These may be inspected by parents whenever they wish more definite information regarding the work of their children than is furnished by the report cards.

MUSIC AND DRAWING.

Under the direction of the supervisor of music, the children are making excellent progress in that subject. Indeed, I have been surprised that in so short a time so much could have been accomplished.

Drawing is receiving more attention than usual in some of the schools. Interest in this subject received a stimulus from the address of Mr. Walter Sargent, State Agent for the Promotion of Industrial Drawing, who spoke to the teachers on the twenty-third of October. The special phase of the work emphasized by him at that time was the use of brush and ink. Soon after his visit, the children in the upper grades were supplied with brushes and have since received instruction in their use.

HIGH SCHOOLS.

Mr. C. H. Knowlton tendered his resignation last June as principal of the Centre High School after having filled the position for three years. Mr. H. Herbert Rice, a graduate of Boston University, and a teacher of experience, was chosen as his successor from a long list of applicants, many of whom were well qualified for the place. He found the school in excellent condition, and has continued the work along the lines pursued heretofore.

A class of nine was graduated last June, five from the four-years' course, and four from the three-years' course. Two of the latter received their diplomas "out of course," having completed the work a year before. Three members of the class are continuing their studies elsewhere; Mr. Hermon H. Hill at Dartmouth College, Miss Bertha G. Bartlett at the Boston Normal Art School, and Miss Kate D. Greenleaf at the Framingham Normal School.

At the close of the fall term, Miss Ethel D. Fisher resigned her position as assistant in the North High School. Miss Clara L. Shaw, a graduate of Smith College, and a teacher of some experience, accepted the position thus left vacant.

Two young men, Mr. Patrick Flynn and Mr. Stewart Mackay, Jr., completed the four-years' course last June and received diplomas. One of them, Mr. Stewart Mackay, Jr., is now studying at the Lowell Textile School.

Five students are now doing fourth year work and are already making preparations for the graduating exercises in June.

This school is steadily gaining in numbers and also in the quality of its work.

SCHOOL LEGISLATION.

By an act of the legislature of nineteen hundred and three, towns whose valuation exceeds two and a half million dollars are not entitled to receive any of the income from the school fund of the state. Previous to that act, the limit of the valuation of towns which could receive a portion of the income was three million dollars. This change in the law would have prevented Chelmsford from receiving any money from this source even if the valuation of the town had not been increased at the last assessment. And, on the other hand, if the law had remained unchanged, the increase in the valuation to above three million dollars would have thrown Chelmsford out of the list of towns which receive a portion of the income of the school fund.

This change in the law, however, has no bearing upon the law providing for the employment of a district superintendent of schools. According to the provisions of that act, towns whose valuation is less than two and a half million dollars at the time of the formation of the district shall receive from the state five-sixths of the amount that they pay towards the salary of the superintendent of schools, three-fifths of the money thus received to go towards paying the salaries of the superintendent, and two-fifths to go towards paying the salaries of the teachers. But should the valuation of the town increase until it exceeds three and a half million dollars, then it will no longer receive any money from the state on account of the employment of a superintendent of schools.

The money for this purpose is obtained by taxation, and the portion received by Chelmsford this year was nine hundred thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents.

IN FIVE YEARS.

Some of the more important things that have happened in connection with the schools during the past five years are briefly mentioned below.

The average membership has increased from 552 for the school year ending in February, 1898, to 702 for the school year ending in June, 1903.

The number of regular teachers employed has increased from nineteen to twenty-three.

The number of college graduates employed as teachers has increased from one to four.

A supervisor of music has been engaged.

A course of study has been printed.

Four years of instruction are now offered in both high schools.

Students are passing from the schools of Chelmsford directly into institutions of collegiate rank.

The graduates of the Centre High School have organized an Alumni Association.

Two new school houses have been opened, one at North Chelmsford, and one at East Chelmsford.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

In thinking over the needs of the schools, I wish to make the following recommendations, hoping that they may receive favorable consideration.

1. The increase in the length of the school year to thirty-eight weeks, thus making it of the same length as that of other towns contiguous to Lowell.

2. The employment of a supervisor of drawing.

3. The relieving of the crowded condition at West Chelmsford.

4. Liberal appropriations for all school purposes.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding this, my fifth annual report, I desire to thank all with whom my official duties have brought me in contact for their continued courtesy.

FREDERICK L. KENDALL,
Superintendent of Schools.

Roll of Honor.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE ADAMS LIBRARY

OF THE

TOWN OF CHELMSFORD, MASS.

FOR THE

Year Ending February 29, 1904.

COURIER-CITIZEN PRINT.

LOWELL:

1904.

Report of the Trustees of the Adams Library.

The Board of Trustees of the Adams Library herewith submits its annual report.

The Board of Trustees organized for the year by electing Mr. J. Adams Bartlett chairman, Mr. Albert H. Davis secretary, and Rev. Wilson Waters treasurer. Mr. Chas. H. Greenleaf was appointed librarian.

The usual committees were appointed for the different needs of the Library.

By the death of Mrs. Harriet M. Bartlett early in the year, the Board lost one of its most efficient members, whose active interest in the Library had from the beginning been exerted for its welfare. To fill the vacancy thus occasioned, the Board of Trustees in joint session with the Board of Selectmen elected Miss Frances Clark.

The Library is indebted to Miss Mary T. Biden for a gift of twenty-five dollars for the purchase of books. The Town could scarcely be better served by its friends than by thus putting the best literature within the reach of its people.

Thanks are also extended to the various other donors.

A large and handsome mural tablet of bronze has been placed in the reading room by the Loyal Legion to the memory of Capt. Charles E. A. Bartlett, a prominent citizen of the Town, and a benefactor of the Library.

The Librarian reports to the Trustees that the circulation during the past year has been 11,393 volumes; the number of borrowers, 440.

The character of the circulation has been: fiction, 69 per cent.; general work, 13; travels and description, 3; literature, 1; biography, 3; natural science, 3; useful arts, 1; fine arts, 1; religion and philosophy, 1; sociology, 1; history, 4.

The Library has been open to the public 199 sessions, or 813 hours.

Number of volumes purchased and added to the Library, 236; number of volumes at present in the Library, 7,197; purchased to replace worn-out books, 7 volumes; withdrawn from circulation, 1 volume; destroyed on account of contagion, 2 volumes.

In the future a finding list will be printed with every purchase of books, and this can be inserted in the catalogues.

The Trustees again express their appreciation of the excellent work done by the Librarian, much of which is gratuitous.

In view of the approaching 250th anniversary of the incorporation of the Town, they would call the attention of individuals who may have old documents, papers, or other relics of early times, to the cases in the Library for the care and preservation of such articles, which if left in the cupboards and attics of private houses are almost certain, in time, to be lost or destroyed.

The thanks of all concerned are due to Emerson and Co. of South Chelmsford, for taking charge of and distributing books in that part of the Town.

The Treasurer's report will be found herewith. No money has been drawn from the Joseph Warren fund, which amounted to $667.26, or from the Adams-Emerson fund, which amounted to $84.33, at the making up of the last quarter of the City Institution for Savings.

Borrowers have been supplied with printed lists of volumes added during the year.

All the books are in excellent condition.

The shelves are becoming so crowded, and there is such need of additional floor space, that the Library is greatly hampered in its work.

During the Librarians absence, patrons have been served most acceptably by Mrs. Onie M. Dolloff and her assistant, Miss Gertrude Jones.

The Library is again indebted to Mr. Marcus H. Winship and his daughter for the care and distribution of the books sent to the West Village.

During the past year the Association has suffered a great loss in the decease of its President, Mr. Luther H. Sargent, who has been connected with the Library continuously since it was organized, January 19, 1872. Being a great lover of books, and also a persistent reader of them, his service for the Library in aiding in the selection and cataloguing of new books has been invaluable.

The financial transactions of the year are shown in the Treasurer's report which follows.

ARTHUR H. SHELDON, Vice-President,
OTIS P. WHEELER, Secretary.
